

to increase in price. The company would increase its production capacity from the Pallid new plant.

project is likely to add another 13 lakh tonne this year.

With this growth rate, the per

Shree Cement to hike production capacity

Shree Cement to take on th

LIVE Comment
SHREE CEMENT will increase production capacity to keep a check on the rising cement prices. This would also help the company to provide cement to customers at a reasonable price.

The Rs 200-crore greenfield project is likely to add another 13 lakh tonne this year.

With this growth rate, the per

The plant is expected to increase production from 500 to 600 crore grams annually by next year.

All set to take on the load strength. Shree Cement's presence in a geographical area is now in favour of producers, and its post healthy margins in difficult years industry, we expect to command a premium.

Shree Cement M-cap crosses Rs 1,000 cr

Shree Cement stock peaks out at Rs 290

Shree Cement stock peaked at Rs 290 on Monday. The stock had risen from Rs 250 on Friday. The company's market capitalisation has crossed Rs 1,000 crore.

China appears keen to enter State cement sector

China appears to be keen to enter the State cement sector. The Chinese government has been looking for ways to expand its cement production capacity. It has been reported that China is planning to invest in India's cement sector.

Cement stocks out at Rs

Cement stocks are out at Rs 290. The market is showing a strong upward trend. Analysts expect continued growth in the cement sector due to infrastructure development.

Enter State cement sector

Shree

A quick scan

Making news

Chinese delegation impressed with Shree

An eight-member Chinese delegation led by Mr. Zeng Xuemin, VP, China Cement Association, visited Shree Cement to have a look at the energy conservation and environmental improvement measures undertaken at the plant and showed interest in setting up cement plants with mutual cooperation...They referred to Shree Cement as "a plant in a garden"...

From The Economic Times dated 28 April, 2005

Shree's market cap touches the Rs. 1000 crore mark

Shree Cement stacked up market capitalisation of Rs. 1,000 crore on Friday at Bombay Stock Exchange when its share touched an all-time high of Rs. 289.75...The Executive Director of the company, Mr. M K Singhi told ET that the performance of the company was all the more spectacular at the Bombay Stock Exchange as the Shree Cement stock registered a better gain amidst a fall in Sensex last weekend.

From the Economic Times dated 11 January, 2005

Shree's stock a good buy

Investors can consider exposure in Shree Cement, as it appears well-placed to deliver earnings growth that could lead to a further re-rating of the stock. Buy the stock with a one/two year perspective...Such an investment horizon may be needed to capitalise on the benefits from the new capacity that is to be commissioned in the second quarter of Financial Year 2005-06.

From S Vaidya Nathan's article in The Hindu Business Line dated 15 May, 2005

Shree a leader in corporate governance

Rajasthan Chamber of Commerce & Industries conferred on Shree Cement Ltd. the Best Corporate Governance Practices award for 2002-2003 at a function in Jaipur. Executive Director of the company Mr. M.K.Singhi received the award at the hands of SEBI chairman Mr. G.N. Bajpayee.

The newspaper item lists the evaluation parameters selecting the company. It further mentions that the Chartered Accountants of India, Jaipur had also conferred similar award to Shree Cement in 2001-2002.

From Rajasthan Patrika, Bhilwara dated 9 June, 2004